Introduction

The Mercedes me Charge rates are governed by the maximum charging speed, for which a fast charging speed usually also implies higher costs.

Mercedes me Charge differentiates the following charging speeds:

AC – alternating current (normal charging)

DC – direct current (fast charging)

HPC – high power charging (ultra-fast charging)

The maximum charging power capacity of each charging station can be found on the Mercedes me Charge website and the Mercedes me app.

Charging stations, which are provided for free by a charging infrastructure operator, are basically also made available to Mercedes me Charge customers free of charge. You can conveniently filter for free charging stations on our map. Please note that the transaction units for charging in public areas may vary due to regulatory requirements in the individual European countries. A transaction is differentiated in terms of kWh, time (min.), or by charging event. All prices are individually based on charge point operators. A variable tariff applies with regard to the individual charging process. The prices depend on respective charge point operators. Please inform yourself about the valid prices in the Mercedes me app before you start charging. For charging abroad (= e-roaming), you will always pay the local sales rate without any additional fees.

Currently, Germany does not guarantee nationwide coverage with charging and billing solutions conforming to calibration law by charging station operators. In our service, we use data provided by charging station operators. In some cases this may lead to deviations in charging and billing amounts, among other things. Please get in touch if you have any questions.
